1. What is an example of something that used to be powerful in your life, that you have “died to” because of knowing Jesus? How did you find the strength to get rid of this thing? How has dying to this thing changed your life?
2. What is an example of something that you know you should get rid of from your life, but that you are still holding onto? What makes it difficult to get rid of this thing?
3. What is an example of something that the world believes in, that Christians must learn to reject? In your experience, what makes it difficult for Christians to be truly different than the world? How can you get stronger at seeing through the false beliefs of the world?
